DEATH AT MAXTON.

Dr. Daniel B. McNeill, of Brunswick County, Passed Away Wednesday Night.

FUNERAL THIS AFTERNOON.

He Never Recovered From An Attack of Pneumonia Experienced Early in January at Raleigh—A Native of Richmond County.

Dr. Daniel Benjamin McNeill, one one of the best and most favorably known citizens of Brunswick and three times elected representative to the General Assembly from that county, died Wednesday night at the home of his nephew, Dr. D. D. McBride, of Maxton, N. C., after an illness with pneumonia and complications since about the first of January.

The news came in a telegram from Maxton early yesterday morning to Mr. R. V. Leonard and brought genuine sorrow to the many friends in this city.

Dr. McNeill became very ill within a few days after he went to Raleigh to attend the last session of the General Assembly and remained for some time in the Rex Hospital of that city. When the Legislature adjourned, he was taken to the home of his nephew at Maxton, where he lingered for many weeks until the end came Wednesday night as related.

Dr. McNeill's home is at Lockwood's Folly and probably no man in Brunswick county was more highly esteemed than he. His life was one of charity and abounding in good deeds.

He was never married but is survived by a brother and sister, Dr. J. A. McNeill and Mrs. W. H. Phillips, of Shallotte. He was a cousin of the Hon. Franklin McNeill, Chairman of the Corporation Commission, and late of this city.

Dr. McNeill was born at Rockingham, Richmond county, N. C., in the year 1852. He lost his parents when quite young and was raised by his uncle, Dr. McBride, of Maxton, N. C. His early education was received in the academic schools of Rockingham and Robeson county. Dr. McNeill chose medicine for a profession and bent every energy to this end. His first medical learning was secured at Edenboro Medical College, a chartered institution at that time under the presidency of his uncle, Dr. Hector McLean. After graduating at this institution he began practicing, but afterwards attended lectures at the South Carolina Medical College, Charleston, S. C. Although not required to do so, Dr. McNeill went before the State Board of North Carolina in 1883, and passed a creditable examination, though he had been engaged in practice before that time. While attending strictly to the duties of his profession, Dr. McNeill always took a lively interest in governmental and political affairs and was allighed with the Democratic party until his death. His clientelage in Brunswick county, to which he removed when a young man, was large and he numbered his friends by the hundreds. In 1885 his party called upon him to represent it in the General Assembly, which he did with signal ability and usefulness. For years he was Chairman of his county Democratic Executive Committee and held various positions of that character and responsibility. He took an active interest in the proceedings of the Legislatures of 1886 and 1899, but upon returning in 1901, his illness with pneumonia confined him to his room during the entire session. In the legislature of 1899 he was chairman of the Committee on Institutions for the Insane and was a member of several other important committees of that body. During the session just ended, he was also chairman of one or more committees and a member of several, but was prevented from an active discharge of his duties upon the same by his critical illness.

The funeral will be held this afternoon from the residence of his nephew at Maxton, N. C., and the interment will be made in the cemetery near that town.

The news of Dr. McNeill's death was telegraphed to Southport by Messrs. Brooks & Taylor yesterday morning and the Court House there was promptly closed and suitably draped out of respect to the distinguished citizen and representative.

The Southport Standard of yesterday in speaking of the death says: "So passes away Brunswick county's member of the House of Representatives, a man loved and esteemed by his countrymen, a sturdy character, a worthy man."

LONG RUN AND A PLUNGE.

Mr D. N. Chadwick's Horse Made Record for Spriating Yesterday Morning.

A horse belonging to Mr. D. N. Cadwick and attached to a road cart made a record on a runaway yesterday that is seldom equalled and never excelled. The animal was at Mr. Chadwick's farm in East Wilmington and became frightened. He made a bee line for Wilmington and dashed down Market street and did not take up until he reached its foot and plunged into the dock.

He was detached from the cart and brought out of the water none the worse for his escapade.

SERIOUS CUTTING AFFRAY.

Young Waiter Silvia Received Dangerous Wounds in Dance Hall On Water Street—Taken to Hospital.

A serious cutting affray occurred last night about 11:30 o'clock in a dance hall to the rear of Mr. Carl Stern's saloon on Water between Chesnut and Mulberry streets. Three young white men, Walter Silvia, Jesse Vernon and John Rowland, all more or less intoxicated, became involved in a quarrel over some trivial matter and the result of a general fight that ensued was that Silvia was dangerously stabbed just under the right shoulder and the muscle of his right arm was laid open by what is supposed to have been a large pocket knife.

Policeman Joe Bryant swooped down on the crowd and arrested the three. Policeman Alex. Wells was called from an adjoining beat and assisted in carrying the prisoners to the City Hall, where it was ascertained that it was necessary to take young Silvia to the City Hospital.

The young man Rowland is the one to whom suspicion points most directly as the assailant of young Silvia.

The case will be heard in the municipal court to-day if the injured man is able to attend the trial, which is very doubtful.

Policeman Bryant who made the arrest was slashed in several places on his clothing in quelling the disturb ance but fortunately the knife blade did not penetrate to the flesh.

The Portsmouth "Brownies" were easily taken into camp by the Wilmington Giants yesterday afternoon on the local base ball diamond and a score of eight to three tells the tale.

The visitors were clearly outclassed at every point in team work and Capt. Stafford's boys won hands down. The visitors were handicapped by a long and tiresome ride from Raleigh and played a listless game, making errors at any old stage of the game.

The Brownies have been in exceedingly hard luck since the opening of the season and now have their captain and another good man laid up at home with injuries received in games played previous to their coming to Wilmington. Manager Smith, however, has a weather eye for new men and before he leaves Wilmington he hopes to have two or three valuable additions to his team. He now has only ten men and one of them, Gates at third base, received a severe sprain of the foot in the sixth inning yesterday in attempting to get third base on a slide after a long drive for two bags to left field. He had no substitute and was compelled to remain in the game greatly handicapped. He had two errors charged to him as the result of his accident.

The game started promptly at 4 o'clock with ideal weather and over seven hundred enthusiasts on the bleachers and in the grand stand.

Cranston bunted safe to third but was put out on attempt to second; Crockett singled past second and stole second on wild throw of catcher; McGinnis went out to pitch; Stafford acquainted the Brownies with his way of doing things by a long drive to centre field and on error made a home run, scoring Crockett. Thackara flew out to centre. Weaver came up for Portsmouth and walked; Gates hit to pitch forcing out Weaver and in attempting second was thrown out by Thackara; Kemmer walked and Murray fanned.

In the second, Delaney singled over second; Warren popped out to catcher; Clayton and Stewart fanned, Knau, for Portsmouth, hit to third and on beautiful stop of Warren was retired at first; Westlake hit out to short; Martin walked; Swander was thrown out from short.

In the third, Cranston was thrown out from short; Crockett flew out to right and McGinnis was thrown out from second. For Portsmouth, Lipp went out to short; Weaver was thrown out from second and Gates flew out to left.

In the fourth, Stafford singled through short; McGinnis bunted, forcing Stafford out; Delaney singled to right and on error of right fielder, got third; McGinnis got home on Lipp's balk; Warren hit for three bags to the fence, scoring Delaney; Clayton hit past short, scoring Warren; Clayton took third on wild pitch; Stewart hit to centre and Clayton scored; Cranston fanned. For Portsmouth, Kemmer walked; Murray hit to second, forcing out Kemmer; Murray stole second; Knau hit to left for two bags, scoring Murray; Westlake was thrown out from short and Martin fanned.

In the fifth, Crockett singled—he always does—to right, McGinnis bunted safe to first; Stafford sacrificed; Thackara and Delaney fanned. For the visitors Swander and Weaver were thrown out from the pitcher and Lipp fanned.

In the sixth, Warren singled to left; Clayton and Stewart sacrificed and Cranston flew out to centre. For the Brownies, Gates hit to centre for two bags but in attempting third was injured and put out by a clever catch of Warren; Kemmer was thrown out from third and Murray flew out to to centre.

In the Seventh, Crockett hit for two bags to his accustomed right field; McGinnis flew out to right and Crockett was thrown out at second on quick double; Stafford hit very hot to third, stole second and scored on wild throw of third; Thackara flew out to first. For the visitors Knau hit hot through short; Westlake fanned, Martin forced out Knau at second; Swander hit to second, forcing out Martin.

In the eighth, Delaney was thrown out on a beautiful stop by short; Warren flew out to centre; Clayton, the "kid," hit to left for two bags and Stewart was thrown out from third For Portsmouth, Lipp hit safe to right; Weaver hit to centre for three bags, scoring Lipp; Gates fanned; Kemmer was thrown out from short and Weaver scored; Murray went out from short.

In the ninth Wilmington repaid Portsmouth for what she did in the eighth. Cranston bunted to third, who threw wild to first; Crockett walked; McGinnis flew out to second; Stafford hit to left for two bags, but was put out on attempt at third, but scoring Cranston and Crockett in the meantime; Thackara was thrown out from third. Portsmouth came up and Knau was thrown out from short; Westlake walked and Martin hit to Crockett, who tagged his base and made a beautiful double to Stafford, retiring the side.

The following is the official tabulated score:

Some General Base Ball Notes.

Cut the trees from the outfield.

Foreman and Thackara will likely compose the battery for the Giants to-day.

It looks like a case of "the man that never came" with O'Steen, of Greenville, S. C., whom manager Peschau has signed. He is expected to land to-day.

"Kid" Clayton is playing the finest short in the League. Delaney is picking up, too, and is now numbered with the finest on the team.

There was no game at Newport with Norfolk yesterday and Raleigh "did up" the Grays of Richmond to the tune of 10 to 1.

It is interesting to read the score of the university games. At Chapel Hill yesterday Carolina defeated Georgia 40 to 4. Carolina made 23 hits and three errors; Georgia made 6 hits and 15 errors.

Stewart pitched a good game yesterday but was a trifle unsteady. He is young though, and was born under a lucky star.

The Brownies are all large men and get their names from a very handsome uniform in the color indicated by the nick. They arrived at 22:05 over the Seaboard yesterday and are at the Fulton House.

Umpire J. R. Davis, of Wilmington, is officiating at Raleigh this week.

Manager Smith, of the Portsmouth team, is officer of one of the courts at Portsmouth, and is a thoroughly up to-date manager.

The score in the Raleigh game yesterday was as follows:

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	R	H	E.
Raleigh	3	0	0	1	1	3	0	2	x	10	13	0

Batteries—Weeks and LeGrande; Hooker and Manners. Time, 1:40. Umpire, Mr. Davis.

The Virginian-Pilot of yesterday says: "Louis Rapp, the Portsmouth third baseman, who has undergone an operation at St. Vincent's Hospital, is reported as being rapidly recovering. The fans across the river are anxiously awaiting the popular player's return to the diamond."

Returning Pythians.

Last evening's train on the A & Y. road brought home several Wilmington Pythians, who have been in attendance upon the Grand Lodge meeting at Greensboro this week. Those returning were Supreme Master of Exchequer T. D. Meares, Col. Walker Taylor, Maj. W. F. Robertson, Messrs. J. D. Nutt, R. S. Collins, and S. Behrends. All report a pleasant and profitable session. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: L. P. McLeod, Asheville, Grand Chancellor; J. L. Scott, Jr., Graham, Grand Vice Chancellor; W. M. Hollowell, Goldsboro, Grand Keeper of Records and Seal; J. L. Arrington, Rocky Mount, Master at Arms; John C Mills Rutherfordton, Master of Exchequer; Rev. D. Brown, Kinston, Prelate; E. B Noce, Jr., Pittsboro, Inner Guard; D. H. Collins, Greensboro, Outter Guard. T. S. Franklin, of Charlotte, was elected Supreme Representative for the term of four years. Asheville was chosen as the next place of meetnig and the time of meeting was changed from April to June.

Allen's Tested Minstrels.

A. G. Allen's New Orleans Minstrels will appear here under canvas on the evening of April 29th. It is favorably remembered from last season and will draw well. The advance agent was here yesterday morning arranging for the appearance of the troupe. He said that the tent would not be spread at Hilton but at some other point to be decided upon later.

SUIT FOR DAMAGE.

Negro Laborer Seeks to Recover $10,000 of the Cape Fear Lumber Company.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT.

Other Cases Disposed of During Yesterday. Order for Payment in Greensboro Coal & Mining Company's Case. An All-Day Session.

The Superior Court was engaged for a greater portion of the day yesterday in the hearing of a lengthy damage suit entitled Charles Carter against the Cape Fear Lumber Company, in which the plaintiff seeks to recover of the defendant $10.000 damages for personal injury sustained through the alleged negligence of the Cape Fear Company, by whom he was employed at the time of an accident, which occurred on Nov 20th, 1899.

The case was taken up about 11 o'clock yesterday morning and when the court adjourned for the day at 6.30 o'clock last evening all the testimony was not in. Messrs. Bellamy & Peschau appear for the plaintiff and Iredell Meares and Robert Ruark, Esqs., for the defendant. The burden of the testimony for the plaintiff, denuded of its legal bearing, was that at the time mentioned Carter, who is a colored man, was employed in loading lumber from a car into a dry kiln of the company; that in performing this service, an accident occurred on account of the alleged negligence of the company in not providing improved devices for dumping the cars, and that one of the plaintiff's legs was broken twice, another once and that he was otherwise permanently injured in body.

The plaintiff first, testified as to the extent of the injury and the circumstances of the accident. Alex. Windley, a co-laborer of Carter, also testified as to the appliances at the mill and Dr. C. P. Bolles, who was superintendent of the City Hospital at the time, testified as to the injuries of the plaintiff. Clayton Holmes, a colored employe of the Angola Lumber Company, also testified in Carter's behalf. Deputy Sheriff H. W. Howell testified as to the good character of the negro and plaintiff's attorneys rested their case.

The defendant's attorneys then demurred and moved to non suit on the grounds that a prima facie case had not been made out. Judge Hoke sent the jury into the room and after argument by attorneys on the demurrer, it was overruled and the defendant proceeded to introduce evidence.

Mr. Glenn, a carpenter employed by the Cape Fear Lumber Company, testified as to the correctness of the minature models introduced in evidence of the devices used at the mill in dumping lumber into the kilns. Mr. C. O. Byerly, an employe of the company, next testified, and upon conclusion of his evidence an adjournment was taken until this morning, when both the plaintiff and defendant will introduce further witnesses.

The jury which has the case in hearing is composed of Messrs J. C. Newton, E. T. Jewell, Ed S. Buck, A. P. Merritt, E. A. Turley, Wm. Tiencken, C. J. Reaves, J. S. Canady, R. G. Holmes, Geo. Dew, J. P. Brenner and W. A. McLeod.

The issues submitted are: "Was plaintiff injured by the negligence of the defendant?"

"Did plaintiff by his own negligence contribute to the injury?"

"What damage is plaintiff entitled to recover for the wrong and injury?"

Other proceedings of the court yesterday were as follows:

National Cash Register Company vs. Lucy J. Farriss; judgment for $95, with interest from May 31st, 1899, and cost of the action.

Junius Davis, receiver, vs. Butters Lumber Company, continued for defendant and set for next term just after case of Bonitz vs. Mills.

N F Parker vs. Walter G. MacRae, plaintiff suffered non suit; matter of costs open.

Sarah J. Hill vs. Burke & Co., cause adjusted; open for judgment.

Carl Jones, colored, vs. Maggie Jones, alias Maggie Bland; judgment for divorce.

Waterbury Rubber Company vs. Greensboro Coal and Mining Company, receiver ordered and directed to pay to such creditors of the defendant as have filed claim, a sum equal to 50 per cent. of same, or such part thereof as the funds in hand may permit; report to be made to the court at the next term.

Graduated With Honorable Mention.

The Baltimore Medical College, which is a member of the Medical Association of Colleges, which demands a four years' term of its students, on the 23rd inst., out of 108 applicants, graduated 97. Among the graduates was Dr. T. V. Moore, son of Mr. F. M. Moore, of Brunswick county. Seven of the graduates received honorable mention, and of these Dr. Moore stood first. Some time ago, a college mate of Dr. Moore was heard to say that he was a very apt and diligent student, and surpassed any member of his class in the special field of anatomy. To be deeply grounded in anatomy, one must necessarily possess a fine memory and it is pleasant to see Brunswick forging to the front with her bright and splendidly equipped young men.

Store Broken Into and Robbed

The grocery store of J. O. Nixon, colored, No. 801 N xon street, was broken into by thieves on Wednesday night and a quantity of provisions, tobacco, snuff, cigars, soap, baskets, etc., stolen therefrom. The money drawer was rifled but fortunately there was nothing of value therein. The Game with Norfolk.

Mr. Preston G. White has completed arrangements to receive the Norfolk game with Wilmington next week by wire at the office of Murphy & Co., in the Sternberger building. FRIDAY MORNING, APRIL 26.

TRUSTS A MENACE TO THE SOUTH.

While all sections of the country are interested in the curbing of the Trusts the South is especially so, because the Trusts are a menace to her. They are a menace to other sections as well, but in a different way. They control the price of such articles as they make, and the price of the raw materials which are used in the manufacture of those articles and this makes them a menace to every section, and as they also control the price of labor this makes them a menace to the laboring man of every section. By controlling immense capital they may be able to do much in the way of developing resources, but they will develop only that which brings profit to them, and that kind of development will not offset the development they strangle by combination, monopoly and their freeze out methods. The South being differently situated from other sections is vitally interested in the Trusts, because she is in danger of being inestimably injured by them.

The industries of the North, for instance, have had a pretty fair start and are well established. They have had the benefit of the protective tariff which gave them a practical monopoly of the home market and made them rich and strong. It is in that section of the country the Trusts are located and these industries are the ones they have combined. The vast capital employed in them has been concentrated into mighty combinations, against which it will be very difficult to compete.

The West is mainly an agricultural section and must remain so, although there may be considerable manufacturing carried on in it, manufacturing of agricultural implements, wagons, furniture and such other things as that section may supply the raw materials for. But the people of the North generally are interested in the power the Trusts have to increase prices. The South, in addition to being the great agricultural section she is, is anxious to become a great manufacturing section as well, and this is where the Trusts become a special menace to her. If the term "infant industries" ever applied to the industries of this country it does to the manufacturing industries of the South, which are all young. Every one of them was started under circumstances that were at least venturesome, so much so that in the start failure was confidently predicted by those who thought they understood the situation and the possibilities better than the men who were bold enough to put their money and their faith in these ventures. Although they had competition to contend against, conditions such as the abundance and cheapness of the crude materials, and the cheapness of labor, etc., favored them and helped them to successfully compete with their older and wealthier rivals in the North,

But then they had no combined rivalry to contend against, and no such concentrated and massed capital as they will have if the colossal Trust system becomes established, for that will in time invade the South and follow up the absorbing or strangling methods it has pursued in the North.

Already the great Steel Trust has reached out to absorb the iron and steel plants of Alabama and Tennessee. These it is reported have been consolidated as the preliminary step to being taken into the great combine. What will the result of this be? Simply to put the iron and steel business of the South in the control of a combination of capitalists, most of whom are more interested in developing the North than they are in developing the South and whose personal interests lie in keeping Southern development in check, for the present at least. This is not sectional bias but simply personal interest, which looks after the properties it has most invested in. The result of this will be a check upon the expansion of the iron and steel industry of the South, which will cease to be a world competitor and become subordinate to the iron and steel industry of the North.

But it will not stop here, for iron and steel are the basic industries on which success other industries rests, and if they be arrested in their growth it will mean the stoppage of the numerous industries that might and eventually would spring out of them, so that when these two industries are dwarfed numerous other industries are crushed or stifled at their birth or made impossible.

When there was a free and an open field for all and individual effort might achieve success there was some inducement for men to invest money in enterprises, but when men of small means will be compelled to enter the lists against combinations controlling unlimited capital the prospect will be so discouraging that but comparatively few and there only the boldest will venture in. As we have no great capitalists in the South commanding many millions of dollars, the establishment of Southern industries must depend upon individual effort and home capital mainly which together have established all the industries we have and would continue to establish them if the conditions were favorable or promising, but the tendency will be to go slow now until we see where this colossal combining is going to stop. We do not mean to say that this will put a stop to Southern enterprise, but it will make it move more slowly and cautiously.

In addition to the reported contemplated absorption of the steel and iron plants of Alabama and Tennessee, we have had reports of a projected consolidation of the cotton mills of the country, embracing all the largest of the mills in the North and the South. There may be nothing in this, or it may be premature, but as consolidation seems to be the order of the day such a movement would be in no way surprising. It would be quite as feasible to consolidate the cotton manufacturing plants of the country as it was to consolidate the Northern and iron and steel plants of various kinds into a colossal combine representing the phenomenal capitalization of a billion dollars. In such a combine the Southern mills would be subordinated to the Northern mills because the controlling capital would be in the North, and the controlling spirits would be Northern men, more interested in the Northern than in the Southern mills. The Southern mills would probably be kept on coarse goods, while the Northern mills would make finer goods, and thus the branching out and going up higher by the Southern mills would be checked, and there the South would lose.

These are but a few of the points, to which many might be added, showing what a menace to the progress and prosperity of the South the Trusts may be if they become thoroughly established and the mighty factors they threaten to become.

DRUNK WITH SPECULATION.

A short time ago a Berlin paper predicted that the result of the rage for speculation in Wall street would be a collapse, and there are not wanting men who stand high in our money exchanges who take the same view. The other day Russell Sage, in an interview with a reporter of the New York Herald, said that if the Wall street manipulators of stocks didn't take in sail soon there was danger of running on the rocks. He declared that it was impossible to keep prices up to the present abnormal figure, prices which are speculative purely and as a general thing have no support in actual values. He cited the fact that railroads were being sold for double as much as similar lines could be built for along side of them, while prices generally had been boomed away above their actual value—inflation, purely inflation, which could not last, but must collapse, unless the conservative, good sense of the country called a halt before it is too late. He trusted in the good sense of the American people to check this inflation and prevent the collapse that otherwise is inevitable. Mrs. Sage, who was present at the interview, remarked:

"They are all drunk with speculation and don't know what they are doing. They have sent stocks of all sorts up in balloons and think they will never come down, but they surely will."

Mr. Sage agreed with her in this, and added:

"That's just it. It's inflation, and it has continued longer than I thought it would. It did seem as if there was intelligence enough among the men in Wall street to see the utter impossibility, the folly, the danger, of trying to do business on a fictitious basis. Unless there is a speedy change, and the men who are now adrift come to their senses and return to sound business methods, disaster is inevitable.

"I consider it the duty of the press to tell the truth about the situation, that honest men may take warning before it is too late.

"The longer this financial condition continues, the greater will be the sacrifice in the end, for prices have got to come down. There can be no other way. They must come down."

Right after this interview a lot of Western plungers lit in Wall street and set it wild. Stocks went away up and somebody made money and somebody lost it.

The craze is on, seats in the Stock Exchange sell as high as $65,000. How long it will last no one knows, nor does any one know what the end is going to be unless cool heads get control and restrain the lunatics.

Camille Flammarion, the French astronomer, says the study of astronomy promotes longevity. Gazing into the stars lifts one and helps to carry him away from earthly passions and dissipations, the result being that the gazer leads a better and serener life that doesn't wear out so soon. As a proof of it he points to the fact that out of a membership of 2,500 in the Astronomical Society of France, the dean is 105 years old and in excellent health, twelve are over 90, twenty over 80, and ever so many above 70.

The Greensboro Telegram has just issued a splendid twenty-four page, illustrated industrial edition, showing what that city and section is doing in the way of progress, industrial, educational and otherwise. The progress made by this tidy, thrifty town has been steady, nothing boomy about it, but of a solid, abiding character.

A NEW JERSEY OBJECT LESSON.

From time to time the people on the other side of the line have object lessons which enable them to catch on to the situation in the South and understand a great many things they didn't understand before, and for which they were quick to indulge in a good deal of tart criticism of the white people of the South. The following, which occurred at Salem, N. J., as reported by wire a short while ago, tells of one of the object lessons that town has recently had:

"At his hearing to-day in the office of Justice of the Peace Wood, George Newsome had a narrow escape from violence at the hands of the father of little Mabel Finlay and of the assembled crowd.

"Newsome is the tall, heavy negro who was arrested yesterday on the charge of attacking Mabel, the fourteen-year old daughter of Charles B Finlay, a farmer near this city, and silencing her by threats to kill her. At the hearing Finlay and his wife became so enraged while their daughter was relating the terrible story of the crime that it was all the officers could do to keep them from attacking the ugly prisoner. George White, also a colored farm hand, to whom Newsome is said to have told of the crime, testified to what he knew, and he proved an excellent witness for the State.

"On cross examination, Newsome tried to implicate White in the trouble, and this so enraged the latter that he seized the chair in which he was sitting and would have brained the defendant had it not been for the prompt action of Detective Carney, who was close at hand. Justice Wood held Newsome for court without bail, and White was held as a witness. Newsome is a big muscular negro, six feet and over in height, of about twenty-three years old. There was a strong sentiment in favor of lynching the negro here this morning, and had any one made the move it would have been accomplished."

If that burly fiend had been thus arraigned in the South with this proof of his crime established it is pretty safe to say that there would not have been much ceremony in administering the usual punishment, and the only reason why it was not administered in this case was because there was no one to take the initiative. The sentiment prevailed all the same, showing that under similar conditions and provocation the average white denizen of New Jersey feels about as the average white man in any of the Southern States does.

WHAT WE HAVE "ASSIMILATED."

According to the latest estimate, when we acquired the Philippines we also acquired some 35,000 lepers for whom special arrangements are to be made on one of the islands for which we haven't much use. But in addition to these we have acquired in these islands a "bunch of trouble," which a Pennsylvania soldier writing from Lassogon, thus aptly describes in a letter to his sister:

"I think these islands are only a bunch of trouble gathered together on the western horizon of civilization. They are bounded on the north by rocks and destruction, on the east by cannibalism and earthquakes, on the south by monsoons and typhoons and on the west by hoodooism and smugglers. The climate is a combination of electrical charges adopted to raising cane. The soil is especially adopted to raising large crops of insurrection and trickery.

"The inhabitants are very industrious, the chief occupation being trench building, making bolos and reloading Remington cartridges. Their amusements are cockfighting, Monte Carlo theft and cheating, which is always done on Sunday. Their chief diet is boiled rice, stewed rice, fried rice and rice.

"The native is only a friend at the muzzle of a gun. The climate is pleasant and healthful for roaches, tarantulas, scorpions, centipedes, alligators and snakes. The soil is adapted to raising foul odors and breeding diseases."

This soldier seems in his spare moments to have been studying the geography of the archipelago, its peculiarities of climate, soil, people, etc., and he is borne out by nearly all the returning soldiers, who are sufficiently amused with their experience there, and very few of whom hanker to go back. It may be a very good "bunch" for people who were born there and become inured to it from infancy, and for snakes, tarantulas, alligators and other disease and climate proof varmints, but it is no place for an American. All returned soldiers who have sampled life there agree upon that.

R B. JOHN.

Robbed the Grave.

A startling incident, of which Mr. John Oliver, of Philadelphia, was the subject, is narrated by him as follows: "I was in a most dreadful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides, no appetite—gradually growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Fortunately, a friend advised trying 'Electric Bitters;' and to my great joy and surprise, the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks, and am now a well man. I know they saved my life, and robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50 cents, guaranteed, at R B BELLAMY'S Drug Store.

Collapse.

Caused by overwork? No, caused by undernourishment. Work rarely causes collapse. It is worry—the outcome of a low condition of the nervous system and inadequate nutrition which generally causes collapse. The collapse seems sudden, but in reality it is a slow process. The stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition are diseased, the nourishment in the food eaten is only partially extracted and imperfectly assimilated. The blood becomes impure; the very fount of life is poisoned, and some day all the faculties and functions go on a strike. That's collapse. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the organs of digestion and nutrition, purifies the blood and builds up the weak body with sound healthy flesh.

"I was cured of a very bad case of indigestion, associated with torpid liver, by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery," writes Mr. C. B. Bird, of Byrnside, Putnam Co., W. Va. "Before I began the use of 'Golden Medical Discovery' I had no appetite; could not sleep, nor work but very little, bowels constipated, and life was a misery to me. After taking four bottles I felt so well that I went to work, but soon got worse, so I used it about eight weeks longer, when I was permanently cured."

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay cost of mailing only. Send 21 one-cent stamps for paper covered book, or 31 stamps for cloth, to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

CURRENT COMMENT.

—— Well, at any rate, there is no doubt of the fact that the trusts could well afford to make up that difference of $42,000 in Attorney General Knox's salary.—Atlanta Journal, Dem.

—— Dr. Frederick J. Simpson of Hartford, Conn., says the school children of this country are required to give too much time to books and too little to physical exercises. "The neglect of the physical well-being of the children attending school has, in my opinion, resulted in an increase in insanity and a decrease in the birth rate in the United States," he declares. The statement is concurred in by Dr. Sargeant, the physical director of Harvard University.—Savannah News, Dem.

—— Aguinaldo has been interviewed by a fully authorized American newspaper man, and says he should like to visit the United States. It is likely that Aguinaldo doesn't know a good thing. At present he is a star boarder with General MacArthur, but if he comes to America he will find himself sharing public curiosity with Carrie Nation and other great persons. If Aguinaldo will take a tip he will stay at Manila. Distance lends enchantment to the view, and we should be sorry to lose the idea that he is a hero.—Philadelphia Times, Dem.

—— Mr. John Norris in his testimony before the United States Industrial Commission easily "knocked the stuffing out" of the demagogic claim that the tariff on wood pulp should be maintained in the interest of labor. He showed that the entire labor cost of the product of all the paper and pulp mills in the country—about $4,200,000 per year—was less than the combined payrolls of four daily newspapers in New York. The wood pulp tariff is not levied for revenue, the rate being so heavy as to prevent importation. The tax is practically a tax on the dissemination of intelligence, and the proceeds thereof go into the hands of the Paper Trust.—Philadelphia Record, Dem.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE

— Clinton Democrat: Mr. H. H. Draughon, the famous hawk-killer, drove in town last Friday, after a four hours' hunt in the swamps of Big Coharie, with seven large hawks, one wild turkey gobbler and one crow. He says he killed two more crows, but failed to find them. He calls his game up to him with yelpers and callers, with which he can make a turkey, hawk or crow ashamed of himself; and they fly to him when he calls, as if charmed.

— Charlotte News: Roy Brumfield, the seven-year old son of Mr. J. D. Brumfield, who was accidentally shot Tuesday by his ten-year old brother, John, still lives, but his death is expected at any minute. He has never spoken since the ball went crashing into his brain. The rest of the bullet has not been found and the doctors have decided to make no further effort to locate it, as the brain is oozing out and death is only a question of a few hours.

— Statesville Landmark: The oldest inhabitant is now discussing the unusual spell of weather for the last of April and trying to recall similar weather at this period in the years agone. The past three days have been a forcible reminder of Winter. Heavy rains were followed by cold winds and snow. Saturday was chilly, damp and disagreeable, and the cold increased toward night. Snow began falling about 9 o'clock and continued for some time, but it melted almost as fast as it fell. Only a little was visible on the housetops early Sunday morning. Sunday and yesterday were both cloudy and cold, and yesterday morning a few flakes fell.

— Chatham Record: There was a big white frost and some ice Wednesday morning, which, it is feared, has killed most of the fruit and damaged all vegetation. It was about as heavy a frost as was ever seen here so late in the season. There was a considerable frost here in 1891 so late as the 6th of May, but was not as heavy as yesterday's frost. —— All the capital stock, that was desired, has been subscribed for the proposed bank at this place. Indeed so great was the confidence expressed in its success that a great deal more was subscribed than was desired, and several of the subscribers did not get as much stock as they wanted.

— Winston Sentinel: It is known that several hundred negroes have left Winston in the past two years. While this is true, a number (those who were able to do so) have returned. This exodus extends beyond this county. About 75 negroes left Greensboro yesterday for Stonega, Va., to work on a new railroad. A Greensboro correspondent says that within the past 12 months several hundred negroes have gone from that place to work on railroads in Virginia and in coal mines in West Virginia. Many of them were disappointed and returned at the first opportunity. On account of the emigration of large numbers of negroes, and the removal of many others from the country districts to the towns, farm labor is scarce. But it is not only farm labor that is scarce. A great many domestic servants have gone North and many housekeepers in Greensboro find it difficult to secure cooks and other help.

— Monroe Journal: Messrs. J. T. Bivens and J. G. Tomberlin live on adjoining farms in east Monroe township. There is surface gold on their lands, and they occasionally pick up nuggets and finer gold about the branches. Some years ago Mr. Tomberlin found a lump worth $176. Recently he found a $10 lump and a considerable amount of gold dust. Mr. Bivens also recently picked up a $7 lump. —— The barn of Mr. Geo. W. Simpson, of New Salem township, was burned last Wednesday afternoon. No one was at home when the fire started, and it was thought to be the work of an incendiary. The bloodhounds were taken to Mr. Simpson's in an effort to catch the rascal. They struck a trail and followed it for a short distance, but the woods having been burnt over they were obliged to give it up. There were about 300 bushels of grain, a lot of forage and other stuff in the barn. The loss is about $500, with $300 insurance.

Competent, but Uncanny.

A. A. Gallagher, district passenger agent of the Missouri Pacific railroad, while en route south was taken quite ill and was compelled to stop at Montgomery, Ala. He went to a hotel and sent for a physician.

The medical man said:

"You have a case of pneumonia and must have a nurse."

"All right," said Gallagher. "Do you know a good nurse you can send to look after me?"

The doctor said he did and would have the nurse at the hotel within an hour. In about an hour a colored woman who measured about nine feet in girth put in an appearance, and Gallagher asked her if she had ever nursed sick people.

"Yes, indeed," she replied. "I've had considerable experience with ailing pussons. I nussed Marster John, and he died; then I nussed Mistress Lucy, and she died; then I nussed Mistress Lucy's sister. The doctor didn't think she was so very poorly, but she done died."

"Have you had any other experience in nursing?" asked Gallagher.

"Yes, indeed. Only last week I left Colonel Carter's house, where I nussed the colonel for five days."

"Well, did the colonel get well?" asked Gallagher.

"No. The colonel he died, too, but Dr. Jones, who 'tended him, run a big knife into the colonel and opened him up. The doctor had been out late the night before and was a little nervous. The knife sort of slipped and just about cut the colonel's heart out. Then the doctor said all he couldn't save him."

CUBAN TEACHERS' VISIT STARTS HEALTH REVIVAL

Paine's Celery Compound Doing Wonderful Work Among Sick.

The visit of hundreds of bright Cuban teachers to the United States last summer has caused a tremendous health-revival in Havana and Santiago.

The American idea, "A sound mind in a sound body," is one of the first lessons Cuba and Porto Rico are learning.

But they are learning fast.

Whatever distrust Cubans may have of American politicians, they have confidence in America's greatest remedy, Paine's celery compound.

It has opened the eyes of the people of Havana and Santiago to the possibilities of good health in a way their crude remedies had never let them imagine.

Paine's celery compound is doing a tremendous missionary work this spring among the sick, not only throughout the United States, but wherever the American influence is felt.

The best families in Santiago are taking Paine's celery compound. The common people are looking after their health as never before. American physicians in Havana are ordering the great spring remedy. Its health-giving effect on friends and relatives who first tried Paine's celery compound in the United States has encouraged thousands of despondent, hopeless sufferers at home to use it. The result in all these cases has been the direct cause of the health revival that is now arousing such tremendous enthusiasm.

That Santiago seconds Havana's endorsement of Paine's celery compound is shown by the following letter from Mrs. Belen Guerra:

Santiago, Cuba, Jan., 1901.

Wells, Richardson Co.:

Dear Sirs: I have had the gout in my fingers and hands. My limbs were benumbed and I could hardly stand. I went to several physicians. A druggist advised me to use Paine's celery compound. I began at once to get better, and today I am perfectly well. Naturally I have great faith in Paine's celery compound.

Very truly yours,
MRS. BELEN GUERRA.

Everyone in this springtime needs to purify the blood and regulate the nerves. Carry home today—not by and by—a bottle of Paine's celery compound. Cure nervousness, neuralgia and rheumatism this spring. You can now put your health on a sound basis by means of Paine's celery compound.

Such evidences of an unhealthy condition as those constant headaches, melancholy, dyspepsia or constipation rapidly disappear under the cleansing regulating action of Paine's celery compound.

COTTON MARKETS.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star

NEW YORK, April 25.—It was a day of "evening up" among the room traders and of procrastination on the part of the speculative public in the cotton market to-day. Shorts took profits wherever opportunity offered; longs lost faith in their position and liquidated. On the opening a steady undertone obtained, but prices were unchanged to one point higher with business dull. All the first hour transactions were of a hand-to-mouth order with fluctuations confined to a matter of four points. The Liverpool market about met the break of yesterday, the weather South was quite as favorable as discounted, and receipts were well up to yesterday estimates. Near the close the pool rallied sharply on a scare of shorts who became alarmed over an unfounded report from this side that another severe storm was developing in the Southwest. Buying orders were sent to our market and to New Orleans with (the result that prices in both markets advanced to conform with the rise abroad. But by midday the support had subsided, and for the rest of the day prices worked within narrow limits, the general leaning being towards the close of yesterday. An estimate for large receipts at leading ports again to morrow and the forecast of continued fine weather over the belt, had a depressing effect upon the local market. Europe and Wall street figured as light buyers of July and August before noon, then were active sellers near the close. The market closed barely steady with prices two points lower to five points higher.

THOROUGHBREDS.

Wha, Bess, you young vixen!
Now, Mollie, your feet!
So, boop-la! You've got beat
The beautiful brute!
Hold her in for a moment;
One hitch to my girth,
And I'm with you, my lass,
For the ends of the earth.

Now, Duroc, my hero,
Be careful, dear heart!
She is fresh as the fountain
And rank for a start.
"You fear not?" Oh, no,
But you like your sweet wills,
And we'll give you a breathing!
Away! To the hills!

Oh, bathe me, ye winds
Of the withering downs!
Brush the scent of the "functions,"
The taint of the towns!
What is art to this nature
Or wine to this air?
What's a picture to Nell
And her blooded bay mare?

ABSENT TREATMENT.

The Woman Had Faith In It and Was Cured.

"My wife solemnly affirms that she will get a divorce if I say anything about it," said Jones with a smile. "But it is too good to keep, so here goes. Mrs. Jones had been ailing for some time, and, falling into the hands of one of the neighbors who is a faith curist, she became imbued with that peculiar belief. I laughed at her, but she remained firm and said she was convinced that she could be cured only through faith. As her illness was nothing serious I said nothing more, congratulating myself that I was ahead what a doctor would have charged her.

"It ran along for some time while my wife continued to gain, and at last she announced that she was fully cured.

"'Now, then, John Henry,' said she, 'I never again wish to hear you say anything about mind cure being all imaginable. I am sure that I would have been a dead woman if I hadn't taken the treatment that I did. And to think he never set eyes on me!'

"'He never what?' I gasped.

"'Set eyes on me! I took the absent treatment. I sent Professor Fake $5 to treat me by his famous absent treatment.'

"'Do you mean to say,' said I, 'that you sent a fakir $5 to treat you?'

"That's just what I did! And to think the most wonderful thing about it was that I was aware the moment that he received my letter and opened it, although he was a thousand miles from me! Why, I commenced gaining right from that moment! It is simply wonderful! You can't deny that I am a well woman, and all through the wonderful absent treatment that I received.'

"I should have said something right then and there had I not heard the postman's whistle and gone to the door to get my mail. There was a letter for my wife from the dead letter office, and when she opened it out dropped her letter to Professor Fake. She had misdirected it, and the fakir had never received it. She says—but on second thought I hadn't better tell you what she says."—Detroit Free Press.

THE HEADLESS HORSEMAN.

An Incident That Happened In the Franco-Prussian War.

It is a peculiar circumstance that hardened and trained troops will go through a long fight surrounded by all the horrors that are inseparable from war without flinching and with the utmost apparent callousness, and the same men will be struck terrified by a single trifling incident.

Every war of any importance, particularly wars between civilized nations, is prolific in incidents of trivial character in themselves, but so unusual and unnatural that they appeal to the natural instinctive horror of men more suddenly and intensely than perhaps the main terrors of days of carnage and surrounding scenes of suffering. Such an incident is the one, for example, which occurred at the battle of Worth in the early days of the Franco-Prussian war.

In the heat of the great battle a wing of the Prussian army was charged by the regiments of French cuirassiers in the hope of turning the wing and facilitating the falling back of the French infantry. But the cuirassiers were driven back by the unflinching Prussians. Again the cuirassiers charged, and again they were driven back by the withering fire of shot and shell.

For a third time they came down again, and as the enemy waited for them to draw nearer a horrible, blood freezing terror seized the Prussians, and for a moment it looked as if they would turn and fly or be cut down without defending themselves. But in a moment they had pulled themselves together and beaten back for the third and last time the gallant cuirassiers.

The sight that terrified the Prussians appears nothing very much in black and white. It was a regiment of cuirassiers led at a dashing rate toward them by a headless officer sitting upright in his saddle and apparently encouraging his men after having been decapitated by a cannon ball.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

WHAT ARE VOLCANOES?

They Are Not Burning Mountains as We Understand That Term.

"What are volcanoes?"

Nine out of every ten persons would immediately have an answer of some sort to the question above, for have they not a lively remembrance of having learned in their schoolbooks that "a volcano is a burning mountain, from the summit of which are sent out smoke and flames?" This popular fancy has been exploded by scientists, whose work is to explode popular fancies.

In the first place, volcanoes are not necessarily mountains. In reality they are just the reverse—that is, holes in the earth's crust. Out of these are thrown the materials which, accumulating, form the heaps which we popularly call mountains.

These are, then, the result and not the cause of the action. Neither are they "burning," as we understand the term. There is no combustion, nor any action we might reasonably call "burning."

The action need not necessarily take place at the summit, for eruptions are just as frequent at the sides or even at the base. The so called "smoke" is nothing more or less than the clouds of condensing steam which are formed on every ocasion when an eruption occurs.

Lastly, the "flames," so called, are merely the reflection of the mass of molten rock and material inside the crater on the clouds of steam above, thus appearing as a glowing light. The friction, too, set up by the motion of the materials causes electricity, and hence the lightning discharges which add to the illuminating effect.—Pearson's Magazine.

Charged on a Bicycle.

Cadet E. C. Kalbfus of the United States ship General Alava, stationed at Cavite, Manila bay, writes his father in Harrisburg an amusing story of how Cadet Courtney of the Newark, in charge of a marine detachment with the Seymour relief expedition in China, led a charge on a bicycle. "It is a fact," Mr. Kalbfus adds, "which will probably go down in history as a parallel of Curtin's telephoning for the surrender of Ponce."

No Private Interview.

"Could I have a few minutes' private conversation with you?" he asked as he stood at the open door of a lawyer's office in the Loan and Trust building the other afternoon.

"Can't you speak right out from where you are?" asked the lawyer in reply after looking the man over.

"I'd rather make a private matter of it."

"What is the nature of your business?"

"Confidential—strictly private and confidential, sir."

"Well, I have no time to grant you a private interview. If you have anything to say, you can let her go right here. Now, what is it?"

"I—I wanted the loan of a quarter, sir," stammered the man.

"Oh, you did! And you wanted a private interview to ask me that?"

"Yes, sir. I knew that it would hurt both our feelings if I were refused in public—yours because you couldn't afford to loan me the money and mine because I couldn't get it. Can you grant my request, sir?"

"No, sir."

"And does it hurt your feelings?"

"Not a bit. You are mistaken on that point."

"And my feelings are the only ones hurt?"

"Yours alone."

"Just so," said the man as he bowed and backed out. "I beg your pardon. I was mistaken. You have the money and no feelings, and I have the feelings and no money. Impassible chasm; no use in trying to bridge. Good day!"—Washington Post.

THE LATEST AS TO NERVES AND STRENGTH

It is not muscle so much as the nerves back of muscle which show one's strength and power of endurance. And the study with able physicians of to-day is how to keep the nerves in perfect health and fitted for the strain of everyday living. Headache of every type, nerve weakness dyspepsia, sleeplessness, languor, restlessness nervous dyspepsia, muscular weakness, brain weariness, poor circulation,—a thousand different unpleasant feelings and symptoms are due to nerve waste and nerve weakness,—especially in women and children. But how can all this be prevented, one will ask? How can my broken down constitution be repaired, and nerve strength and full, robust health be secured. Just two points to remember: Determine that you will grow strong in nerves and health, and decide to use at once that most famous nerve cure, COCKLIN. It is delicious in taste, quick in action and makes the wearied nerves tingle with renewed strength and every function the stronger and faculty the brighter by its use. Druggists sell it.

The Morning Star.

WILMINGTON, N. C.

FRIDAY MORNING, APRIL 26.

FEARFUL BOILER EXPLOSION.

Chemical Works Blown Up—The Dead and Injured Estimated at One Hundred and Fifty.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

FRANKFURT, GER., April 25.—The boilers of the Griesheim Electro-Chemical works, near Griesheim, exploded this afternoon and the factory caught fire. The three boilers of the works exploded. The explosion was audible here. The Frankfurt fire engines, ladders and ambulances have gone to the scene of the disaster.

The number of dead and injured is estimated at one hundred and fifty, but cannot be determined until the list of employes of the chemical works can be compared with the survivors. The fire continues to burn, although the greater part of the Frankfurt fire department and the troops are trying to prevent its spread to the buildings out side of the fire scene. Hospitals have been provided for in the vicinity.

The flames apparently originated by the blowing up of vats of chemicals in the explosives department of the works at 3 o'clock this afternoon. They spread with frightful speed to the adjacent buildings, and then over the river to Schwanheim. When a second explosion took place, the fumes of masses of burning chemicals made it impossible to stay in the vicinity. The inhabitants of Greisheim were ordered to leave their village, which they did, fleeing to Frankfurt.

INDICTMENT FOUND.

Albert T. Patrick Charged With the Murder of Millionaire Rice.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, April 25.—The indictment against Albert T. Patrick for murder in the first degree was handed up to day. Patrick is charged with the murder of William Marsh Rice. There are ten counts in the indictment. Patrick is charged directly with the murder, Charles F. Jones, the valet, being ignored altogether. In separate counts of the indictment Patrick is charged with killing Rice with chloroform, with mercury and with an unknown poison; with chloroform and mercury, together with chloroform and an unknown poison together, and again with all three of the articles.

The indictment charging Patrick, Maurice Meyer and David L. Short with forgery was written out but not handed up to the recorder. Patrick is indicted on a charge of forging four checks, on the Patrick will, so called, executed June 30th, 1900 and, all three men, Short, Patrick and Meyer, are charged with forgery in the first degree.

NEW BATTLESHIPS.

Changes in Armor and Batteries Suggested by the Navy Department.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, April 25.—The Navy Department has about concluded that the new battleships of the Virginia class shall have armor of six inches thickness in casement and from seven to eleven inches side armor. This is about the same as the armor on the ships now building. Chief attention is now being given to the batteries of the new ships. Although no conclusions have been reached, there is a tendency toward substituting seven inch guns in the broadside batteries in place of six inch weapons. It is said that this change would permit the broadside guns to penetrate one inch more armor than at present at a range of 3,000 yards, and will materially increase the effectiveness of the guns in other respects.

A FINANCIAL PANIC.

Over Twenty Banks in Japan Have Suspended Payment.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

YOKOHAMA, April 25.—Over twenty banks have suspended payment at Osaka and in the southern and central provinces of Japan. The Bank of Japan has assisted them, but further trouble is apprehended. A financial panic prevails.

NEW YORK, April 25.—A. M. Townsend, local manager of the Hong Kong and Shanghai Banking Company, was asked for information today with reference to the failure of banks in Osaka. He replied: "We have no advice regarding these failures. They do not directly affect our trade as they are only small native banks. The financial position in Japan is strained and such failures are expected."

TARPON SPRINGS POSTOFFICE.

Assistant Postmaster Arrested—Short in His Accounts $1,000.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

CHATTANOOGA, TENN., April 25.—Assistant Postmaster Charles H. Drexel, at Tarpon Springs, Fla., has been arrested according to reports to the postoffice inspectors' office here. He is charged with being short in his accounts to the extent of $1,000, he having dynamited the safe to cover his guilt. Drexel's father is employed in the postoffice department at Washington.

DISTILLERY SEIZED.

Plant of the Lookout Co., With 631 Barrels of Whiskey.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

CHATTANOOGA, TENN., April 25.—The plant of the Lookout distilling company together with 631 barrels of whiskey, has been seized by revenue collectors on an order from Washington. Shomatulsky and Connor, former proprietors, who sold the plant April 1, were arrested. Duplicating stamps on original packages is the charge.

CUBA DELEGATION IN WASHINGTON.

The Guests of Honor at a State Dinner in the White House.

INTERVIEWS WITH M'KINLEY.

But the Real Business Was Transacted With Secretary Root—Secrecy Observed as to Conference—Outcome Was Satisfactory.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, April 25.—The Cuban delegation, from the convention framing a constitution for the new island republic, saw President McKinley twice to day, once in the early part of the day when there were introductions and a formal exchange of expressions of friendship between the United States and Cuba, and again at night when the members of the delegation were the guests of honor at a state dinner at the White House. The real business which brought the delegation here was transacted with Secretary Root at the War Department, the President, in the forenoon interview at the White House, saying to the delegates that he would confer with the secretary who would act as his representative in conferences over the Cuban situation. The delegation and Secretary Root were closeted for some hours in the afternoon in a discussion of the relations of the island to the United States. Secrecy was observed as to the conference, the statement being made that after results were reached some news as to the conclusions might be made public.

Matters of importance were not touched upon in the interview between the President and the delegation, the conversation being almost wholly formal. Senor Capote, in his address to the President, spoke of the desire of the Cubans to have the closest possible relations with the United States. He said that United States soldiers and Cubans had fought side by side and driven Spain from the island and that the ties between the two countries were bound in blood. The relationship, therefore, between the countries should always be most amicable and closer than those which usually exist between nations. He spoke of the gratitude which Cuba felt to the United States for the assistance rendered in her liberation.

In response, the President expressed his pleasure at meeting the delegation, and desired through them to extend his kindest wishes to the people of the island. He said that his interest in Cuba always had been very great, and he made reference to messages he had sent to Congress concerning the island. Its welfare always would be the subject of his most earnest consideration. He congratulated the members of the delegation upon being members of the Cuban Constitutional Convention. He said it was a high honor, and it fell to the lot of but few men to have the opportunity to frame a government for a republic. Concerning the object of the delegation's visit, the President said he would confer with the Secretary of War, and the Secretary, having an intimate knowledge of the situation, would confer with the delegation.

The Cuban delegates began their round of official visits and conferences to-day by going to the War Department at 11 o'clock for the first formal meeting with Secretary Root. They were then escorted by him to the White House for a meeting with the President. At the hotel, to accompany them on their rounds, were two officers of the United States army in fatigue uniform, Captain Sawtelle and Lieutenant Overton.

Previous to the arrival of the delegation at the War Department General Wood entered the secretary's office and was there when the visitors were shown in. The delegation called first at the office of Assistant Secretary Sanger and then were shown into Mr. Root's private office by Colonel Sanger. Captain Sawtelle and Lieutenant Overton and Senor Gonzales, secretary to General Wood, were present during the conference at the War Department. It is understood Senor Gonzales is a fluent Spanish linguist and he also was asked to be present at the conference at the White House. About an hour was consumed in a discussion of Cuban affairs in the War Department, when the delegation left for the White House.

The commissioners reached the White House at exactly 12 o'clock. They were preceded by Secretary Root Assistant Secretary Sanger and General Wood, who walked over from the War Department while the members of the commission rode in carriages. When the latter alighted they were ushered into the blue parlor, where the President, Secretary Root, General Wood and Assistant Secretary Sanger were awaiting them. The introductions were made by General Wood. The greetings were cordial on both sides and took place through the medium of an interpreter. The exchanges were purely of a formal character. Senor Diego Tamayo, chairman of the commission, who is a member of General Wood's cabinet, on behalf of the commission, made a brief address to the President, and the latter responded. Several pleasant things were said on both sides, but there was no discussion in detail of the object of the commission's visit. The exchange of assurances of good feeling in general described the nature of the interview. The commissioners were with the President scarcely half an hour.

The Business Meeting

The most important meeting of the day was a conference in Secretary Root's office, lasting from 3 until 6 o'clock in the afternoon. This was the first business meeting, the others having been social and formal. Those present were the five Cuban delegates, the interpreter, Secretary Root, General Wood, Assistant Secretary Sanger and Senor Gonzales, General Wood's secretary, who acted as interpreter a great portion of the time. The army officers who are acting as escort for the Cubans were present. When the meeting adjourned no official statement was made as to the proceedings, but it can be said that the result was considered satisfactory both by the Cubans and Secretary Root. The business was not completed and the conference will re-assemble to-morrow afternoon. The fact that the entire conversation had to be conducted through interpreters made it necessary to proceed slowly.

It was made plain to the Cubans by Secretary Root that no modification of the Platt amendment could be made by the executive department of the government, and the Cubans themselves understand that there is little possibility of congressional action in that direction, as the conference was devoted largely to the construction which could be placed upon the amendment. The law states that the propositions contained in the amendment shall be "substantially" agreed to by the Cubans, and the discussion revolved chiefly around what will be considered a "substantial" agreement to the Platt amendment requirements. There was some very fine legal sparring between Secretary Root and Senor Capote, the president of the constitutional convention and chairman of the delegation, as to the meaning of the amendment and the meaning of certain proposed drafts of the different propositions that were considered. Both the secretary and Senor Capote expressed their views quite freely, and the exchange of suggestions and replies was very interesting to those present. The intervention proposition caused the most discussion, and as this had received much consideration in the convention in Havana, the Cubans were familiar with all the phases of the construction that might be placed upon it. All members of the delegation took more or less part in the discussion, and the views of each were given careful attention by Secretary Root.

It is understood that the Cubans are impressed with the desire on the part of this government to deal fairly by Cuba and the belief is expressed that the delegation will take home favorable reports of our intentions.

General Wood expects to leave here to-morrow night, going to New York, thence to Cuba. It is not known when the Cubans will return, but the belief was expressed that the business which brought them here would be concluded at the conference to-morrow.

SOUTHERN COTTON MILLS.

President McAden of the Spinners' Association Interviewed Regarding the Proposed Strike.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., April 25.—To an Observer reporter to-day Dr. J. F. McAden, president of the Southern Cotton Spinners' Association, said that he had heard of no developments regarding the proposed strike of cotton mill operatives on May first.

"Do you think the operatives in the South will strike if ordered to do so?"

"If the strike is ordered by President Gompers, of the Federation of Labor, it is likely to be general," he replied. "That is, every section of the country will be effected by it. I do not think there has been much organization among the mill people except in the cities or towns, and I am sure that most of the organization has been perfected in recent months—since the Burlington strike. The Union seems to be strong in Raleigh, Burlington, Greensboro, Concord, Gastonia and in Charlotte; but there are not many members of the Union among the operatives of mills in rural districts. At McAdensville, for instance, the operatives are not members of the Union and declare that they will have nothing to do with the strike, and operatives in other country places have a similar feeling."

"Have you received any notification, official or otherwise, of President Gompers' demands?" "No. The only thing Gompers wants in the whole business is recognition of him in his official capacity, and this recognition he will never receive from Southern mill owners."

"And the operatives?" Oh, if they were forced into the strike the only reason they can or will assign is that they wish a reduction of the labor hours. The strike will be the greatest mistake that could be made by operatives in this country.

In common with other manufacturers in this section, Dr. McAden is not at all alarmed over the prospect of the strike. The market is against manufacturers now; but they made money last year, and their financial position is such that they can either continue to run on short time, as at present, or else, if they are forced to do so by the strike, they can shut down altogether without over much concern about the ultimate outcome of labor conditions and a bad market.

Taking a surface view of the situation the mill owners and operatives here appear contented and prosperous, and there is nothing to indicate an approaching economic storm. Dissatisfaction, it is said, will come from without and not as the result of local conditions.

KILLED BY AN ELEPHANT.

Horrible Death of an Animal Trainer With the Wallace Shows—The Elephant Afterwards Killed.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

PERU, IND., April 25.—Henry Huffman, well known animal trainer, with the Wallace shows, met a horrible death here to day, being killed by "Big Charlie," a monster elephant, while the animal was bathing in the Mississinewa river.

"Big Charlie" wound his trunk about his keeper Huffman and hurled him far into the stream. The man was injured and when he returned he said: "Why, Charley, I did not think that of you; arn't you ashamed of yourself?" The next instant Huffman was grabbed by the big elephant and thrown to the bottom of the river and held there by the forefoot of the animal. Then with a great roar the elephant ran away.

Several showmen shot at him with no effect. He broke down fences and roamed about in a big field, keeping everybody at a distance. Apples loaded with strichnine were thrown near him and he ate one. An hour later he laid down and was in terrible agony. A rifle shot settled him.

"Big Charlie" weighed over three tons, was valued at $10,000 and in his lifetime had killed four men.

TEXAS TOWN RAIDED.

The Robbers Driven Off—Bloodhounds On Their Trail.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

TEXARKANA, TEX., April 25.—About 1 o'clock this morning an unsuccessful attempt was made to hold up and rob the little town of Queen City, Texas, sixteen miles south of Texarkana. Five men went to the shingle mills of C. L. Cabe, which was in charge of watchman Ira King. They covered him with pistols and disarmed him. A tramp named Woods was sleeping at the mill. The men told King and Woods that they were going to tie them to the railroad track, capture the night policeman and rob the town. King and Woods were taken to the track, but while the robbers were getting the ropes ready they broke away. Woods was shot twice by the culprits and is dead. King was shot in the head, but will probably live. The shooting attracted the attention of Constable Powell who hurried to the scene with Clyde Strange. Upon their arrival a pitched battle ensued. The officer emptied two guns at the robbers and after exhausting his ammunition was forced to retreat. Bloodhounds are now on the trail of the robbers.

The Chicago, Burlington and Quincy directors at a special meeting voted to submit to the stockholders of the road a proposition from the great Northern and Northern Pacific railroads to take control of the Burlington.

SETTLEMENT OF CHINESE PROBLEM.

Russia Will Advance the Sum Required to Pay the Indemnities.

WITH THE AID OF FRANCE.

Russia Will Retain Manchuria as a Pledge for the Loan—European Troops Will Then Leave Pekin, Except the Legation Guards.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

PARIS, April 25.—The Courriere Du Soir, which is often well informed on ministerial intentions, says to-night that the settlement of the Chinese situation is a question of finance. The newspaper says that Russia, repeating that operation which has had the greatest success, will advance China the sum required to pay the indemnities, and that French savings will provide the Russian government with the requisite funds. The European troops except the legation garrisons, will then leave Pekin, and a fresh period will begin during which Chinese patience will strive to tire out the British and German governments in their claims, regarding the opening of the ports and the customs. Russia, however, will retain Manchuria as a pledge for the loan.

This appears to be the general scheme of the project that the French foreign minister, M Del Casse, is discussing in St. Petersburg with Count Lamsdorff and M. Witte.

ST. PETERSBURG, April 25.—M. Del Casse, the French minister of foreign affairs, and Count Lamsdorff, the Russian minister of foreign affairs, went to the palace at Tsarskoe Selo this morning, where the Czar entertained them at breakfast. There were no other guests.

German and French Expedition.

BERLIN, April 25.—The Lokal Anzerger's special from Cheng Ting, near Pao Ting Fu, says:

"The German and French expedition is approaching the front of the Chinese army, which is apparently 25,000 strong and well entrenched in three positions. The Germans marched over difficult mountain passes to the gate of the Great Wall at Nieung Twi Kan. The enemy appears indisposed to offer resistance and its retreat behind the Great Wall is expected."

A dispatch from Pin Chan, dated April 24th, says a mounted infantry patrol found the Chinese fortifications unoccupied and unarmed. The natives said General Liu, with the bulk of his army had retreated.

FILIPINOS STILL FIGHTING.

More Surrenders to Americans Reported Manila Commissary Frauds—A Sergeant Convicted and Sentenced.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

MANILA, April 25.—Captain James H. McRae, with Companies G an F of the Third infantry, recently encountered a force of insurgents near Norzagaray, province of Bulacan, killed five of them and captured twenty-five rifles. Soon afterwards General Monez, with six men, came to Norzagaray and surrendered. Later, General Morales surrendered. Many surrenders are expected before May 1st, when the limit of the amnesty expires.

Commissary Sergeant John Meston, charged with complicity in the commissary frauds, whose trial ended on April 15th, has been sentenced to be dishonorably discharged and to two years' imprisonment. The sentences of the other sergeants and clerks similarly implicated will probably be greater.

LEGASPI, PROVINCE OF ALBAY, P. I., April 25.—The administrative features of Albay province are backward. The military situation is improving slowly. General Belarmanio is still operating with 200 rifles. The Federalists have requested Aguinaldo's assistance in securing his surrender.

A thousand men of the Ninth (colored, cavalry and Forty seventh regiment of volunteer infantry are at present at Albay. The new Twenty-sixth regiment (regulars) is on its way here.

There are no American schools and few municipal governments. Although unsettled, the sentiment is strong for peace and civil government.

OHIO RIVER'S GREAT FLOOD.

Water Stationary at Cincinnati—Relief at Other Points—Distress is Still Great.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

CINCINNATI, April 25.—The high water mark of the flood passed down this part of the Ohio valley earlier to night than was expected, and the stage of water became almost stationary from six to ten o'clock at fractions about 59 1 feet and afterwards at 59 2 feet when it became permanently stationary here and at upper points.

Great relief is reported to-night from Huntington, Catlettsburg, Ashland and Ironton, where the flood was bad last night, and at smaller places in that district. Early in the evening the temporary rise in that district, caused by the Kanawha and Big Sandy, swelled the water at Portsmouth, but it was soon over and will lose its force before it shall reach Cincinnati. The river at 8 o'clock was stationary at Portsmouth at 58 5 feet and will remain stationary from that city to Cincinnati until to-morrow afternoon, when it will begin falling. The people here and for miles up the river are preparing to avoid all possible evil effects of receding waters rather than of rising waters.

The present indications are that the manufacturers and merchants on both sides of the river will be completely relieved before Monday. With the water almost ten feet above the danger line, there is endless inconvenience and loss on both sides of the river, and there is some distress to-night. Mayor Fleischmann secured relief funds to day and had committees appointed, as hundreds of houses will not be fit for habitation for some time after the water recedes.

The Russian bark Nore, from Wilmington, N. C., March 24, for Stettin, has landed at Falmouth the captain and five members of the crew of the Norweigan ship Parthena, from Mobile for Liverpool. Ten others of the Nore's crew had been transferred to the Norweigan schooner Vardik, bound from Laguna for Stettin.

EDGAR ALLAN POE'S WORKS.

Brought High Prices at an Auction Sale in Boston.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

BOSTON, MASS., April 25.—The French Library sale at Libbie's closed to day with high prices, the top figure being $1,300 for a copy of Poe's "Al Aaraaf, Tamerlane and Minor Poems." A first edition of Poe's "Murders in the Rue Morgue," originally picked up in a Boston book stall for fifteen cents, was sold for $1,000, a Boston man acting for a collector securing the volumne. The $1,300 copy of Poe was in the original boards, uncut. But one copy has been offered by auction in twenty years. Two autograph letters of Poe went to the same collector for $2 760, which also includes two other items.
